In-class Quizzing Through Canvas

Presenter:
Dr. Bernard Hauser
College of Liberal Arts and Sciences
bahauser@ufl.edu

Group Discussion Recordings
- Recording of group discussions during collaborative quizzes are an effective means to accommodate students that cannot attend online meeting times.

Group Discussion Moderating
- It is important for an instructor to moderate the discussion to temper persuasive students that lead the group astray with erroneous conclusions.

Peer to Peer Learning
- Peer-to-peer learning during group work is one of the most effective tools to teach students how to solve critical thinking problems.

The Big Picture
- Students using recordings of group conversations finished the assignment, on average, three times faster and had similar or slightly higher scores when compared to those that actively participated in group activities.

Peer Teaching
- Peer teaching by assigning group work is possible for online classes. Non-traditional students with tight time constraints and shifting schedules can be accommodated with recordings of the group activities.