

Teaching with Archives: A 360° Event

This session will highlight the work of UF faculty through mini presentations on how they use Special Collections and Digital materials in recent courses for graduate and undergraduate students. Afterwards, see unique items on display from a few of the Special and Area Studies Collections and visit with curators.

- Faculty course highlights (Desperate Domesticity: The American 1950s; Literature and Gardening; Introduction to Spatial Design)
- Library curators showcase individual archival and digital collections
- Free time to browse the materials on display and talk with curators

UF Special Collections:

African Studies, Asian Studies, Popular Culture, Baldwin Library of Historical Children's Literature, Latin American and Caribbean Collection, PK Yonge Library of Florida History, Food and Agricultural Sciences, Map and Imagery collections, Samuel Proctor Oral History Program, Isser and Rae Price Library of Judaica, and the University Archives.
