

SPRING INTERFACE 2012 + DIGITAL HUMANITIES DAY

FACULTY SEMINAR

The University of Florida Technology Innovations Advisory Committee (TIAC) and the Center for the Humanities and the Public Sphere (CHPS) invite all UF researchers and instructors (faculty, lecturers, teaching assistants with their own classes) for the year's second Interface seminar Thursday, April 26th from 9 am to 4:15 pm, a joint event with the first annual UF Digital Humanities Day. This seminar is themed around "Open Resources, Open Possibilities", and will include 10-minute lightning talks, roundtables, posters, and refreshments, including lunch. The complete schedule for the event is available online: <http://interface.at.ufl.edu>

A free lunch will be provided; however, seating is limited and registration (no fee) is required. All instructors attending the face-to-face program will be entered in a drawing to win a free iPad. You must be present to win.

The seminar is designed to engage attendees in demonstrations, discussion and networking focused on improving teaching, learning, research, and public engagement by deploying innovative pedagogy and research using new and emerging technologies. Faculty Seminar participants will have opportunities for discussion with both presenters and peers.

This event is intended as a face-to-face forum; however, the lightning rounds and keynote will be live streamed. The breakout table sessions will be available online as well. Register as an Online Participant to receive the appropriate URLs.

Spring Interface + Digital Humanities Day: Faculty Seminar is co-organized by Academic Technology, the Center for the Humanities and the Public Sphere, and the George A. Smathers Libraries, with additional support from the CLAS Dean's Office and the UF Office of Research.
